AROUND Town. - Yesterday was warm, and all the people seemed to feel kind of wilted, or as if they had been drawn through knot holes. Little or no wind stirred to liven up things, and but for the busy hum of business and the occasional molodious note of the Washee cauary, things would have seemed almost sepulchral. These are the kind of days that take the stiffening out of a local reporter and he rushes around wildly in quest of items. The young men looked a little sleepy, because of that Home Circle dance of the night before, but they did manage to summor up courage enough to say, Tut a stick in it," when asked to drink. Of course the curbstone philosophers were as patiently spitting tobacco juice and industriously whittling at the dry goods boxes, white discussing affairs of State and railroad monopolies and where to get are always decorated with a few of and give them a show, but he will also keep an eye on the Treasury. Buck Indians, buckosees and little buckers hid around snuning themselves rather promisequently, and painting themselves so they look like sunflowers or zobras. Several carloads of heavy eastings were laying on the side track for the C. and C. shaft, Unlifornia and Gila mines. The six carloads of emigrants excited no interest because there has been so many of these lately that the aver-

We took a flying trip to Poeville yesterday to hear again the welcome sound of the mill stamps. Ten stamps are pounding on Consolidated Poe ore, and the elevator hurriedly conveys it into the furnace for roasting where it is subjected to an intense heat. This furnace is to all appear-We took a flying trip to Poeville heat. This furnace is to all appearances the very thing that will fetch the bullion out of refractory cres, and since the enlargement it is working splendidly, and no fears are now entertained relative to the final result, and we confidently expect by the end of the week to chronicle the arrival of a large lot of fine bullion from the Consolidated Poe. Mr. O'Hara, the inventor and Superintendent of this furnace, informed us that after roasting, the ore is put into chloridizing pans where it is left for 24 hours, and that the amalgam so far is vory satisfactory. Mr. Buckley, the President, is on hand, lookng out for things in the absence o a General Superintendent, and takes interest in the success. Let it be said to his credit that he has risked his money where it ought to be repaid with compound interest, We next visited the Golden Fleece mine, examined it thoroughly and came to the conclusion that but very few mines on the Comstock excel it. We could not form an exact estimate' of the good ore in sight, but judge that several thousand tons can be taken out with ease. For a length of nearly 200 feet in the tunnel the ore protrudes through the lagging on both sides of the tunnel and extends from the foot wall clear overhead. The Consolidated Poe have thirteen men employed, but will soon put on a force in the mine stoping out ore, and also a crew at work sinking a monster double-compartment shaft. They have tons and tons of ore upon the dump - sufficiont to keep the furnace running steadily for months.

The work done on the Golden Flocco is substantial and durable, Monday. We threwout a dose of the tunnel being heavily timbered its entire distance-900 foet.

But little work is being done no other claims in the district, all Consolidated Poe's operations.

Dred on the Train.-While the emigrant train was between Winnemucca and Wadsworth the spirit of Mrs. Mary C. McBride took its flight to the Summer land of song. For eighty years she had walked the earth but at last her race was run, her mission onded. The fatigue incident to the long journey overland proved too much for the aged lady and she passed away among strangers. The old lady has children in California and she was trying to brave the dangers of the trip that she might fold them once more to her yearning heart before she died; but this, her last fond hope, was blasted and her expectant children, who are anxiously looking for "mether," will meet only her lifeless clay. The body was placed in a coffin here and sent on to the end of the journey. She was from Arkansas, Police Court.-Judge Gilson had the next meal. The street corners Mooney and Raymond before him all day Tuesday and all Tuesday night, these Selons who would run all the but arrived at no decision in the Governments of the earth with a matter. The case was then laid over oral of the pieces were original with high hand had they a chance. Pros-ident Grant might look, after them walk around under guard, because of the nature of his wounds, which will not admit of his being confined. Baymond is now in jail. Yestorday the case of the State vs. Geary, under charge of obtaining money under false proteuse, was on the docket, but up to the time of going to press, no decision was had.

printing office rollers are glue and molasses. Day before yesterday our foreman constructed an entire new set for the press room, and after peeling the old viscid substance off the wooden cores, throw the discarded material out on a vacant let in the vicinity of the office, when its tempting appearance soon attracted the attention of a bovy of female Shoshones, who were watching an interesting game of Indian poker near by. They went for it like a Dutchman after sour-krout; the saccharine mat-ter tickled their primitive palates; while the glutineus substance formed an excellent ballast for their empty stomachs. The poker game was sus-pended, and all hands commenced stowing away a cargo, and in less time than it takes to write it, they had put themselves outside of the en-tire lot. We haven't seen any of them yet, but a gentleman, who visited the campoody on the hill last evening, informs us that a number of the male and female members of the tribe appeared considerably un-der the weather, and that all of the medicine mon were out scouring the hill for a peculiar plant known as Ta-kee shumue, celebrated in the Shoshone Materia Medica for its intensely cathartical qualities .-- Eureka Sentinal, Aug. 22d.

A similar case occurred here on the mixture and the Indians-backs. equaws and papooses had an immense time while the sweet compound lasted, but now there is weeping and anxiously awaiting the result of the wailing and gnashing of teeth. The next time we throw away any composition we shall also throw out a bottle or two of croton or easter oilnot that they may ask for it, but then it will be "handy to have around" as Mrs. Toodles says.

STOCKS.—Under ordinary circumstances, the appearance of yesterday's stock market would justify apprehensions of a panic in the event of its continuance. There is scarcely a doubt but the tightness in the money market has been produced for the carrying out of the game now being so successfully played. Whether or not the insiders have yet commenced to load up is of course known only to themselves, but the aspect of affairs sooms to yet depress the market to the extent they proposed, but that it will decline still more.

FINE MUSIC. - The music furnished by the band now under charge of Robt. Flanders, at the Home Cirele hop Tuesday night was fine, so much so that it became a general comment among the hoppists. Sev-They have their headquartors in Reno, but are playing all around the country, so much in demand are they. They are now at Lake Tahoe, playing there. New music is their strong snit and they are well up in it, too.

Good Process.-The new brick buildings to be occupied by Postma ter Jamison and merchant Prescott, are rapidly approaching completion and we know they will be ready for occupancy in time for these enterprising dealers to get their large stocks of goods snugly stowed upon the shelves before the rush incident to the Fair. FINE RESIDENCE. - Mrs. F. P. Kingsbury has the most handsome residence in Posville, and one which compares very favorably with some of the nice ones in Rono. It is elegantly furnished.
